OLD ENGLAND:

OR,

The CONSTITUTIONAL JOURNAL.

By JEFFREY BROADBOTTOM, of Covent-Garden, Esq;

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1744. [N°. 73.]

IN this Seaſon of Pleaſure, wherein every body is enjoying the Variety of Vaux-hall, the Magnificence of Ranalaugh, or the Fragrance of their Country Retreats; I beg Leave to recommend to my Countrymen and fair Countrywomen an old dramatic Performance, entitled, The Merry Beggars*. In this ingenious Piece they will learn how to be Wretched, yet be inſenſible of Miſery; to be Beggars, yet feel no Affliction, and to violate Law, yet eſcape Juſtice: But, above all, the Title of the Piece ſeems peculiarly well adapted for our preſent Circumſtances; and there is in it one Character of a Fellow, one Mr. Talboy, who is always laughing with Tears in his Eyes; which, were it not for the well known Veracity of the late Editor, would make one almoſt ſwear that the whole was deſign'd as a Satyr upon our preſent A——n.

The Family of the Broadbottoms, whoſe Principles, as well as Name, I hope, I retain, is a Race which may indeed be impoſed upon; but I hope we ſhall never ſhut our Eyes for fear we ſhould ſee our Danger. One of the firſt Articles of the Family's political Creed is, that there may be ſuch a Thing as Slavery under a Proteſtant, as well as under a Popiſh King; that it is equally intollerable under both; that the Geneva Cloak, the Holland Surplice, and the Triple Crown, have all, in their Turns, proved Tyrants; that Religion has ever been but a weak Preſervative againſt Ambition; Liberty often the Dupe of Power; and poſitive Inſtitutions ſometimes the Cobwebs of Government. From theſe Principles we are led to entertain an equal Abhorrence of G——n, as of F——h Slavery, and ſhould be as ſenſible of the Scourge under a H——n Collector as a F——h Intendant. From all theſe Particulars the Reader will eaſily perceive, that to be a Merry Beggar is very diſtant from the Character of a BROADBOTTOM, which lays me under no ſmall Diſadvantages and Suſpicions at this Juncture. Fetters to me are ſtill Fetters; and Mr. Peachum's Conſolation, that they ſit as eaſy as a Glove, and are fit for any Gentleman to wear, would give me no manner of Comfort, if I ſhould ever be reduc'd to feel their Weight.

When the Nation was in her late addreſſing Fever, my Vanity ſometimes put me in Mind that, as I was at the Head of about three hundred and fifty, or four hundred Perſons, (including Devils and all) who get their Bread by this Paper, I had as good a Right to make a Figure in a G——te, as the Heads of many other Societies, who were graciouſly, and very graciouſly received. Nay, tho' I now bluſh at my own Weakneſs, I began to imagine that SIR Jeffrey Broadbottom would not ſound quite amiſs. But, Thanks to the Spirit of my Anceſtors, I found my Pride ſuperior to my Vanity; that I was proud enough not to be a fawning Knave, and poor enough not to wiſh to be poorer by locking up a Spittle, which, like Soap under the Razor, has lathered the Face of the Public, till even Skin and all has been ſhaved off by our M——l Barbers. This Continence at the only Juncture in which I could ever have a Chance of being a great Man, did equal Honour to my Judgment as to my Virtue. A few Days, nay Hours, diſcovered that we had nothing to fear on the Point againſt which all our Addreſſes were directed, while the Event has ſince drawn he Curtain, and diſcovered a Scene of Danger and Difficulty in a Quarter from which our M——rs either never did, or ſeemed to expect any; till we are got into a Diſtreſs, in which there is no Hand to relieve, nay, I am afraid, no Eye to pity us.

Has any one Incident either abroad or at home happen'd, which has co-operated to this melancholy Situation, that was not foreknown, foreſeen, and foretold? Has not this Paper without Doors, and our Friends within, thundred with Caſſandra, ---- Fate into the Ears of the Public that the Sword of France was ſtill keen enough to cut aſunder the weak Toils into which we thought to hunt her? That her Power by Land was ſtill ſufficiently heavy to cruſh a Princeſs whoſe Abilities were unequal to her Spirit, and ſupported by Allies whoſe good Offices had another Tendency, and whoſe Friendſhip other Views than her Preſervation? It is, I believe, now plain beyond all Contradiction, that the Motions of the French both at Dunkirk and upon the Moſelle, had no other End than to amuſe us with Apprehenſions, while unſeen and unſuſpected, they ſmuggled their Troops into Flanders, and, without Noiſe, pointed their Swords at the Throats of our Allies. In the mean Time, the Conduct of our High and Mighty Friends has been ſuch as ſeems to favour the Opinion, that there was nothing they wiſh'd for ſo much, as to be rid of our Teizing, and to have this ſpecious Pretence of iminent Danger to excuſe a politic Neutrality, by which their Commerce gets more than their Arms could ever acquire. The attacking their Barrier, whatever it was to us, could be no Surprize upon them. The Motions of the French Troops, the public Menaces of Fenelon, and the known Contents their own Ambaſſadors Diſpatches had, more than proclaimed that ſuch a Step would be taken for upwards of two Months before it happened. Yet in what Condition were they to face the Storm? Menin, the moſt regular, the moſt tenable, and one of the moſt important of their Fortreſſes, was provided in a Garriſon ſcarcely ſo numerous as the Guns they mounted upon their Walls; and Lewis the Fifteenth, at the Head of a French Army, in two Days, took the Place with the Loſs of forty Men, which coſt the Duke of Marlborough four thouſand, and loſt him nineteen Days, at the Head of the Confederate Army.

Can we accuſe the Dutch of having deceived either us, or our dear Ally? No. The Reaſon of the Thing ſpeaks for itſelf. Dum tacent clamant. Neither their Will nor their Ability favours their entering as Principals into this War: That their Will does not, is evident from their Conduct; that their Ability does not, from their Number of Forces they have now on Foot, which, in all, is but 86,000, ſix thouſand of which are now in Britain, and 72,000 required to Garriſon their own Towns.

If thoſe are Facts not to be diſputed, it is a melancholy Certainty, that the Affairs of our Allies are in a deſperate Way in Flanders; that our own Army can be deliver'd only by a Miracle, or a Retreat as ſhameful as their advancing thither was unadviſed; if, amidſt all theſe Miſfortnnes, no Blame can be laid upon unforeſeen Incidents, and no Miſcarriage charg'd upon perfidious Friends; if, I ſay, all this is the Caſe, to what is our preſent Situation owing? To what but to a firm Conviction, which every Man of Senſe abroad has, that this is no B——ſh War; that as it was not originally entered upon from B——ſh Views, it is dangerous to truſt to B——ſh Support. That whatever Zeal a G——te may expreſs, yet the natural Intereſts of this Nation may ſtill prevail over foreign Conſiderations, and the Spirit of the People over the Intriegues of a M——ry.

Let us now caſt our Eyes curſorily over other Parts of Europe, where we ſhall ſee all is of a Piece, and that we have unvariably purſued our late favourite Scheme of doing either too little or too much. Every body knows that the Fate of Italy depends greatly upon the Firmneſs of a certain M——h. That this M——h has done as much as he either can or ought to do to bar the Acceſs of the combined Armies of France and Spain from Italy is, I think, beyond all Diſpute on all Hands: But ſtill it is evident, that he expected to be ſeconded and ſupported by our Fleet; and that the Proofs we were to give of our Zeal for the common Cauſe were to be equal to his. Have we anſwered his Expectation? No; the Enemies Fleet not only eſcaped but triumphed; while their Land-Forces were opening their Way with their Swords. Here too we have no Room for laying the Blame upon Fortune; no Incident, no unforeſeen Misfortune, happen'd, which could favour their Eſcape. If there was any Diſparity of Numbers, any Advantage ariſing from the Condition of the Ships, any Encouragement from the Diſpoſition of the Seamen, the Odds were on our Side. This being the Caſe, to what was this Miſcarriage, at ſo critical ſo deciſive a Juncture, owing? To Ignorance, to T——y, or to both; but if to any of thoſe Cauſes, why has no Enquiry been made, to clear the Innocent, to caſhier the Incapable, and to puniſh the Guilty? An Omiſſion of this Kind is no very favourable Omen to that M——h I have already mentioned, of our Sincerity. The Fate of his Country, in a great Meaſure, depended upon the Behaviour of our Seamen; and, if they were in Fault, common Decency and Gratitude to him required that ſome Examples ſhould be made: The public Honour of G——t B——n required it for her own Vindication, and to preſerve amongſt Allies that good Faith which ſome People, of late, have ſo much in their Mouths and ſo little in their Hearts. For my own Part, I can't help thinking that ever ſince that memorable Day, a remarkable Coolneſs and Backwardneſs has appeared: And, if ſome Paragraphs in our common News Papers may be credited, Impreſſions have been ſince that Time made upon him by our Enemies, who certainly have it in their Power to give him much more advantageous Terms, if Intereſt alone is to determine him, than are in the Power of either us or our Ally. A little Time will diſcover the Truth of theſe Reports: In the mean Time, ſhould he proſecute the common Cauſe with the ſame Zeal and Firmneſs as he did before this Event, ſome People will owe more to his Virtue than to their own Wiſdom.

There is another royal Ally (in Expectation) of as much Importance, at preſent, to the common Intereſts of Europe, as either the D——ch or his S——n M——y. The Reader will eaſily gueſs that I mean the K---g of P——a. When one conſiders this P——'s Connections with the auguſt Houſe of H——r, his great and almoſt deciſive Weight in the Empire, joined to his Perſonal Character and the Conduct he ha[s] thereto observed, one should be naturally inclined to think, that common Prudence would have led us to have felt how his Pulse beat, before we had thus deliberately, I may call it, plung'd into the present War. To have made up his Differences with the D——h would have been a Work worthy the Care and Character of a B——h M——ry; and at the Price of any Service we could do him, to have made him our Friend was the readiest way to terminate the present Troubles of Europe with Credit and Success to ourselves. One should think that this should have been no hard Matter to effect, when he reflects that that P——e has no great Reason to be very sanguine in the French Interest; and that his own, in a peculiar Manner, leads him to wish that the Differences of Europe were happily compos'd; Add to all this the Obligations he is under to the B——h M——ry, in procuring him, after his Troops were beaten, and after he was betrayed by the French, his only Ally, Possession of the finest Territory he now enjoys at the Expence of our DEAREST Ally. But notwithstanding all this, we find, (if we are to believe the not contradicted Accounts of our own and all the foreign News Papers) that he spurns our Friendship under Foot, refuses to hold Communication with our M——r, and doubts of, nay accuses his M——y's Conduct.

* Printed in Dodſley's Collection of old Plays, Vol. 6th.

As these are Facts, which for the Honour of Old England I am obliged to disbelieve. As for the same Reason I am willing to hold as spurious the Letter pretended to be wrote to his M——y from the L——d of H——d upon the Subject of his P——n M—— y's Conduct, tho' printed by Authority of the S——, G——l; I must leave the clearing up of the whole to Time, concluding with Sir William Davenant, That,

Since Knowledge is but Sorrow's Spy,
'Tis better not to know.

N. B. Whereas there has been a very extraordinary Demand for our FOUR Letters of February the 25th, March the 3d, 10th, and 17th, they are now reprinted in 8vo. and may be had of B. Cowse, in Pater-noster-Row. Price 6 d.

This Day is publish'd,

(Price 6 d. and to be continued Weekly)

NUMB. VIII. of

THE HISTORY of ENGLAND:

during the Reigns of K. William, Q. Anne, and K. George. With a large Review of our public Transactions, under the Royal Brothers, Charles and James.

Being a proper SUPPLEMENT to all the general HISTORIES of ENGLAND.

Digested from a large Collection of many hundred curious State Papers, above thirty Vol. of Tracts and MSS. collected by the late Lord Somers, and twenty two Vols. of MSS. on the Revenue, late belonging to Charles Montague, Earl of Halifax, first Commissioner of the Treasury, and Chancellor of the Exchequer to K. William.

By an IMPARTIAL HAND.

Printed for F. Cogan and T. Waller in Fleet-street, and to be had of W. Bickerton in the Temple Exchange, Fleet-street.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

HOLLAND.

Hague, June 8. O. S. The Late Governor of Menin is arriv'd here, and has received Orders from their High Mightinesses to prepare and transmit them an Account in Writing, of his whole Conduct, from the first Attack, to the Surrender of that Place.

We hear from Marseilles, by Letters of the 25th ult. O. S. that on the 15th the English Squadron designing to water at a Place within a League of the Islands of Hieres, four English Men of War advanced to favour their Landing, but that the French Troops assembled, and obliged the English to withdraw. The Captain of the English Men of War set Fire to a House in the Village, and in their Return back, they took four Vessels which were bound to the French and Spanish Armies, laden with Salt, Provisions, Wine, Forage, &c.

That Admiral Matthews having had Advice, that 30 Spanish Ships, laden with Provisions and Ammunition, had set Sail from Barcelona for the Army, he went a few Days before in Search of them; that they upon discovering the English Squadron, endeavoured to escape; that twelve of them did accordingly get into Marseilles, eight others into Ciotat, and of the remaining Ten four were burnt, and six taken: That six French Merchant Ships from the Levant had been taken by the English, which were valued at five Millions of Livres: That the French Fleet lay still at Toulon, waiting for the Spaniards: That all possible Precautions were taken for the Defence of the Sea Coasts, and the Inhabitants put under Arms.

Prague, June 12. O. S. 'Tis now beyond all Doubt that the Trenches are opened before Ypres. The Government here has received Advice that the French Batteries, mounted with 150 Pieces of Cannon, and 60 Mortars, began to play upon the Town the 17th with a terrible Fire; that the next Day the French attack'd a Hornwerk on the Side of the Lower Town, but were repuls'd with all imaginable Bravery by the Garrison; that the French having widen'd the Breach, renew'd the Attack on the 9th, and after an obstinate Resistance, had carried the Hornwerk Sword in Hand. The Government of Furnes had found Means to throw a Reinforcement of 30 Men into the little Fort of Knocque, a Place of great Consequence; and the Garrison of Tournay has been reinforc'd with three Battalions, one of which is compos'd of English and Hanoverians. Prince Charles of Lorrain was still in the Neighbourhood of Heidelberg on the 6th Instant, but Preparations for his Bridges were making under the Walls of Mentz. By Letters from Prince Lobkowitz's Army, and from Rome, of the 24th and 26th ult. the two Armies were still in their former Posts; Prince Lobkowitz designing not to proceed on his intended Enterprize, 'till the Arrival of a Reinforcement of 8000 Men, which were coming from the Milanese, and were to join his Army about the 5th.

FRANCE.

Toulon, June 4. The English Fleet is come again to an Anchor in the Neighbourhood of this City, consisting of 42 Sail of Ships and Frigates. It extends quite to Marseilles, and blocks up all our Ports; so that, at present, we should carry on just as much Trade as we do, if we had no Ports at all. We are mighty well pleased, that M. de Maurepas has the Satisfaction of seeing, with his own Eyes, the Situation to which his Councils have reduced us. We know, that he had a large Share in procuring the Declaration of War against England, of which, we had not the last previous Notice; and by which, we are in a fair Way of being undone. As the Fleet is now posted, there is absolutely an End of our Communication with the Army in Italy; which must be in danger of Starving, if they cannot force a Passage into the King of Sardinia's Dominions, oblige the State of Genoa to subsist them, or repass the Varr instantly, in order to return again into this Kingdom. We have this Moment Intelligence, that the English have fallen in with 20 Sail of Transports, laden with Provisions, eight of which they have either taken or destroyed.

COUNTRY NEWS.

Newcastle, June 16. On Monday 7-Night, in the Afternoon, Capt. Hornsby, of Sunderland, was chased by a Privateer of ten Carriage Guns, besides Swivels, who came up with him about Goree; but the first Broadside Capt. Hornsby gave, he had the good Fortune to hit the Privateer between Wind and Water, which sunk her, and all the Crew were drown'd except one Man. Just before he gave Chace to Capt. Hornsby, he had met with a Ship belonging to Yarmouth that had struck to him.

LONDON.

Whitehall, June 15. Letters from Admiral Matthews, dated the 22d past, O. S. from on board the Namur in Hieres Road, mention his having been join'd the same Day by Capt. Norris, of the Essex, who had the good Fortune to destroy Part of a Spanish Embarkation from Majorca and Barcelona, and brought with him a fine Spanish Xebeck, and a French Tartan laden with Corn. The Particulars of this Affair are contained in the following Letter from Capt. Norris to the Admiral.

Essex, off Toulon, May 22.

YEsterday Morning, at Half an Hour after Three, we saw 26 Sail of Xebecks and Settees plying to the Eastward. Upon their discovering us to the Windward of them, and they not being able to fetch Ciotat, they bore away, Part for Cassi Creek, and Part for Marseilles. As I judg'd them to be a Spanish Embarkation, I thought it my indispensable Duty to endeavour to destroy them. About Ten o'Clock I came to an Anchor within two Cables Length of Cassi, and about a Pistol Shot from a Creek to the Westward thereof, where they put in to shelter themselves. I sent in my Yawl first with an Officer to reconnoitre the Place; he soon return'd and inform'd me, that he thought what I had proposed, with regard to scouring the Eastern Side of the Creek, and landing the Marines under Shelter of the Cannon, was very practicable, in order to drive the Enemy from their Vessels, that my Boats might take Possession of them. I accordingly landed the Marines, who were attack'd by a Party of Spaniards; but as soon as the Officer could form them they forced the Enemy to Retreat. At the same Time the Boats boarded a Xebeck and a Tartan, and wharp'd them out to me. I immediately sent the Boats in again with Combustibles to set the rest of the Embarkation on Fire, as I found it impracticable to get them out; and I have the Pleasure to acquaint you, that we had the good Fortune to burn three Xebecks and eight Settees; the Xebecks were all arm'd Vessels to convoy the Settees, and I believe in their Ballast. The Settees were laden with Powder, Cannon, other Ordnance Stores, and some Provisions, and were bound to Antibes, where they were to receive farther Orders from the Marquess de las Minas; and, by what I can learn from the Prisoners we have taken, they were to embark Troops for Italy; and I am the more confirm'd in this Opinion, as we found Slings in them for hoisting in their Horses. They came from Majorca and Barcelona.

On Saturday Orders were dispatched for Portsmouth, for the immediate sailing of the twelve Ships of the Line order'd to clear the Channel of the foreign Privateers, &c. And, at the same time, the Jersey Man of War, station'd for Newfoundland, the Eltham, for Boston, and the Maremaid, for Virginia, are to sail with them, and to take under Convoy the Merchant Ships bound for those Places, which, it's said, are 300 Sail.

Letters from Antigua advise, that Commodore Warren, in his Majesty's Ship the Superb, and the Ships under his Command, have taken five Ships from Martinico, and carried them into that Island.

On Sunday Evening Commodore Anson arriv'd, in good Health, at his Lodgings in Spring Gardens; and on Monday waited on the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, and afterwards on his Majesty at Kensington, and was most graciously received.

The same Evening Admiral Lestock arrived in Town from Portsmouth.

Last Week a Waggon loaded with Bags of Wool, carrying to the Sea Coast, was seiz'd at Ipswich by Mr. West, Custom-house Surveyor of that Place, and condemn'd accordingly; by which the Owners forfeit the Penalty of three Shillings a Pound.

Monday came Advice that two French Privateers, of twelve Carriage Guns each, had taken the Joseph and William, and the Fair Eleanor, two Coasters belonging to Whitby, and carried them into Dunkirk.

The Grizzle, Stierson, from Carolina for Rotterdam, is taken by the Spaniards and carried into Bilboa.

The Cargo which Commodore Anson has brought home with him is as follows, viz. 2,600,000 Pieces of Eight, 150,000 Ounces of Plate, 10 Bars of Gold, and a large Quantity of Gold and Silver Dust; in the Whole to the Amount of 1,250,000 l. Sterling.

On Friday 7-Night the Dover Privateer, Capt. Grovenor, arriv'd off Dover from a Cruize, and has sent in there the St. Francisco, Loran, from the Canaries, bound to Dunkirk, laden with Wine: She had also a large Sum of Money on board consign'd to People in Dunkirk.

At the same time arriv'd the Eagle Privateer, Capt. Beazely, with a notorious Smuggling arm'd Cutter, chiefly man'd with Transports and Outlaws, who all got ashore, except the Master and one Boy: They had a French Pass to protect them from French Privateers. She has two Carriage Guns and eighteen Swivels, sixteen Wall Pieces, and three Chests of Small Arms.

Last Monday Thomas Ripley and Samuel Remnant, Esqs. paid their Fines into the Chamber of London, to be excus'd serving the Office of Sheriff; and on Wednesday James Langston, Esq; paid his Fine on the same Account.

The following Gentlemen have been nominated for Sheriffs by the present Lord Mayor, and have not paid their Fines, nor are discharg'd, viz. Thomas Watson, John Parker, and Theophilus Salway, Esqs.

Wednesday the Lords of the Treasury appointed Stephen Goodwin, Esq; to be Collector and Receiver of the Customs in the Ports of Southampton, Weymouth and Plymouth.

The same Day their Lordships appointed Mr. Allen Wood to be an Inspector of the Customs in the Ports of Southampton and Weymouth, in the room of Mr. Seddon, deceas'd, Wednesday in the Afternoon as a Maid Servant belonging to Mr. Sadler, a Grocer in Shad-Thames, was carrying her Master's Child through Bermondsey-street, Southwark, she dropp'd it out of her Arms just as a Cart was passing by, which ran over its Body and kill'd it on the Spot. At the very Instant another Accident happen'd in the same Street, viz. one Mr. Williams, a Carman in Tooley-street, turning his Cart too hastily, unfortunately jamm'd his Brother against the Wall in such a Manner that he died immediately.

On Sunday Night, about Ten o'Clock, as Mr. Aires, Comptroller of Deptford Yard, was coming home to his House in Long-Lane, Southwark, he was attack'd by two Footpads at Peckham-Gap, who robb'd him of eight Guineas, two 36 s. Pieces, his Hat and Wigg, and then made off.

The Prince of Orange, Waters, from Youghall to Lisbon, is taken by the French and carried into Brest.

Capt. Campbell, of the Surprize, who is arrived at Liverpool from Barbadoes, in his Passage had a smart Engagement with a French Privateer, and oblig'd him to sheer off. Capt. Campbell received but little Damage.

The Prize taken by the Kinsale Man of War, Capt. Young, and sent into Scilly, proves to be a large Ship from Martinico, valued at 80,000 l.

Capt. Young has taken four other small Prizes, but they were separated from him in a Gale of Wind.

Wednesday Afternoon came on the Choice of a Lecturer of the united Parishes of St. Mary le Bow, St. Pancras, Soper-Lane, and Alhallows Honey-Lane, in the room of Dr. Stebbing, who has resigned. The Candidates were Mr. Downes and Mr. Waring; the Numbers for each were 59; when, by Consent of the Parishoners, the Rector gave his Vote, which decided the Election in favour of Mr. Downes.

An Order is issued out from the Board of Ordnance for transporting, with all Expedition, for Flanders, 100 Barrels of Gunpowder, 30 Tons of Bullets and 10,000 Muskets, for the Use of his Majesty's Forces.

Thursday Andrew Jelfs, Esq; paid his Fine into the Chamber of London, to be excus'd serving the Office of Sheriff.

Extract of a Letter from Dover, June 15.

We hear from Calais, that Ypres was taken last Friday; but we have no Particulars except that it has cost the French a great Number of Men. The French King is to be at Dunkirk this Day, and, 'tis said, will give Orders for releasing all the British Ships and Men that were detain'd there before War was declar'd.

Extract of a Letter from Waterford, June 11.

Two Days ago a French Privateer took, about four Leagues off our Harbour, a Sloop or two, and some Coasters. She is still in the North Channel, and may wait on this, and the Welsh Coasts, in Safety, forasmuch as we don't hear of one Man of War, or English Privateer, in any Harbour of this Kingdom. Some People that they stripped, and put ashore out of her, about ten Miles off of this Place, report, that she is but a small Privateer. None of our Vessels will venture out, so that our Trade is now at a Stand. I mention this to you, that if any Ships are bound from your City to Dublin, they may be apprized of the Worst that may happen.

From the Utrecht Gazette.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated June 19.

The 16th Instant a Courier arriv'd at Whitehall, with the News that a Treaty of Alliance and Union between the Emperor, the King of Prussia, the Elector Palatine, and the King of Sweden, as Landgrave of Hesse Cassel, was sign'd at Francfort the 1st Instant. Two foreign Ministers, who receiv'd the same News, have intimated, that the Design of this Treaty is, 1. To restore Peace in the Empire; 2. To maintain the Emperor's Dignity, and 3. To recover the hereditary Dominions of the House of Bavaria. Those Ministers were also inform'd by their Dispatches, that the contracting Parties had agreed to invite the other Princes of the Empire to accede to this Treaty.

BANKRUPT.

George Smith, late of the Parish of St. Mary Aldermary, London, Bricklayer and Chapman.

This Day is publish'd,

(Price Six pence)

A LETTER from FLANDERS, giving an Account of the present State of the War in the Netherlands, the Weakness of the Allies and Strength of the French; with a View of the present Politics of Holland, of the Courts at War, and principal neutral Powers of Europe.

By an Old English Officer, from the Camp near Oudenarde, to his Friend at London, June 17. N. S. 1744.

Printed for M. Cooper, at the Globe, in Pater-noster-Row.

This Day is publiſh'd,

And to be continued Monthly.

(Price One Shilling each)

THE FEMALE SPECTATOR.

Book III.

Printed and publiſhed by T. Gardner, at Cowley's Head, oppoſite St. Clement's Church in the Strand; R. Dodſley in Pall-Mall; M. Cooper in Pater-noſter-Row; and ſold by all Bookſellers in Town and Country.

N B The two firſt Books (which were lately publiſhed, and are now Selling) having met with the general Approbation of all who have read them, the Authors take this Opportunity of aſſuring the Public, That from the great Helps they continually receive from Perſons whom they are not authoriz'd to Name, there is not the leaſt room to doubt, but that the ſame Spirit, which appears in them, will run thro' the whole of this Undertaking.

This Day is publiſh'd,

(Price One Shilling and Six-pence)

A DISSERTATION ſhewing the INVALIDITY of all Proof by SIMILITUDE of HANDS, in Criminal Caſes. The Whole collected from the Civil Law, and other diſtinguiſhed Authorities; founded on the Principles of Reaſon and Equity, and digeſted with a Clearneſs that ſuits it to all Capacities.

Tranſlated from the Works of an eminent French Civilian, and proper to be read by a free People at all Times; but particularly the preſent, when a new Species of Treaſon, and that by Way of Correſpondence, has been lately created; the extreme Danger of which, to the moſt innocent Perſon living, is ſet forth at large in an ample Preface by the Tranſlator.

Non enim qui accuſatur, ſed qui convincitur reus eſt.
Cap. Car. Mag. l. 7 cap. 185.

Satius eſt impunitum relinqui facinus nocentis, quam innocentem damnare.
Cod. l. 5 de Pœnit.

Printed for M. Cooper, at the Globe in Pater-noſter-Row.

This Day is publiſh'd,

In Two Volumes,

OF the USE and ABUSE of PARLIAMENTS.

In Two Hiſtorical Diſcourſes, viz.

1. A General View of Government in Europe
2. A Detection of the Parliaments of England, from the Year 1550.

England can never be undone but by a Parliament.
A Maxim of the Great Lord Burleigh's

 To the ſerious Conſideration of the People of England; theſe Diſcourſes on the Uſe and Abuſe of Parliaments, are, in the moſt earneſt and affectionate Manner, recommended; that All may know the Truth; and that the Truth may make us free.

This Day is Publiſhed,

(Price Two Shillings)

(By the Author of a Letter from a By-Stander)

AN ESSAY towards fixing the True Standards of Wit, Humour Raillery, Satire, and Ridicule.

To which is added,

An Analyſis of the Characters of an Humoriſt, Sir John Falſtaff, Sir Roger De Coverly, and Don Quixote. Inſcribed to the Right Hon. Robert Earl of Oxford.

—— Juſta eſt Alex.

Printed for W. Bickerton in the Temple Exchange, near the Inner Temple-Gate Fleetſtreet.

To all Gentlemen, Builders, and Others.

JOSEPH EMERTON, COLOURMAN, at the BELL and SUN, over-againſt Norfolk Street, between St Clement's and the New Church in the Strand, London, Brother to the late Mr. Alexander Emerton, and who, in the ſaid Alexander Emerton's Life time, chiefly managed his Buſineſs,

SELLS all Sorts of Colours in greater Perfection than the ſaid late Alexander Emerton did, by the Help of a new invented Machine, or Horſe-Mill, being an Improvement upon the Plan of his ſaid late Brother's Mill, and far exceeding it. So that Gentlemen, Builders and others may depend upon being ſupplied with the beſt, fineſt, and neateſt ground Colours, with which they may ſet their Servants or Labourers to Paint their Houſes, only by the Help of a printed Direction, which he gives with his Colours.

He likewiſe ſells to the Ladies all ſorts of WATER COLOURS and VARNISH, with every thing neceſſary for the New Japanning; and gives a printed Direction, for the doing of it to the greateſt Nicety, to thoſe that buy Colours. Alſo Italian Powder for cleaning Pictures, and fine Picture Varniſh.

He alſo ſells Floor-Cloths of all Sizes, and Patterns at the cheapeſt Rate

And deals only for READY MONEY.

An Infallible REMEDY

For BROKEN-WINDED HORSES,

WHICH has been publiſh'd and ſold many Years before any Counterfeits in other Forms appear'd, and highly commended from one Friend to another; The vaſt Quantities that have been ſold do alſo verify the Truth of its Efficacy and Virtues, for it moſt perfectly cures them, after all other Means have been ineffectual, to a Wonder, in a ſmall Time, without Connnement; by attenuating and opening the Globules of the Lungs dried up, and all the Paſſages obſtructed by Humours dropping thereon, occaſion'd by hard Riding, Colds, &c. It cauſes preſently a free Perſpiration, renewing its Force, Vigour and Length again as well as ever.

It immediately cures thoſe Horſes only a little touch'd in their Wind as a Hard continu'd Coughs, Colds, Wheezing, &c being excellent in preventing many other Diſtempers incident unto them by mowing, preſerving and continuing a good Breath.

And in a Word, by this very Medicine alone, many Horſes have been made ſo perfectly ſound, that they have been ſold or valu'd from 30 or 40 l. which, by being broken-winded, could not before be had of 3 or 4 l.

It is ſold at Mr. Sandwel's Toyſhop at the Sign of the Griffin, the Corner of Buckle's-bury in the Poultry, at 4 s 6 d the Quart Bottle, with Directions for taking it, and no where elſe in England.

This Day is publiſh'd, Price 1 s.

THE LIFE of ALEXANDER POPE, Eſq; with Remarks on his Writings. To which is added, his laſt Will.

Printed for W. Bickerton, in the Temple-Exchange, Fleetſtreet.

This Day is publiſh'd,

NUMBER XIII. [Price One Shilling]

Which compleats the Firſt Volume of

THE HARLEIAN MISCELLANY: Or, a Collection of Scarce, Curious, and Entertaining Tracts and Pamphlets found in the late Earl of Oxford's Library.

CONTAINING,

I The Continuation of a Deſcription of the Famous Kingdom of Macana, &c.

II. A Philoſophical and Medicinal Eſſay of the Waters of Tunbridge. Written to a Perſon of Honour; by Pat. Maden, M. D.

III. A Deſcent from France. Or, the French Invaſion of England, conſidered and diſcourſed.

IV. The Danger of Mercenary Parliaments

V. A new Looking-Glaſs for the Kingdom: Wherein thoſe, that admire the late Governments, may have a true Proſpect of Liberty and Slavery, and take their Choice

VI. A modeſt Account of the wicked Life of that grand Impoſtor, Lodowick Muggleton; wherein is related, all the remarkable Actions he did, and all the ſtrange Accidents that have befallen him ever ſince his firſt Coming to London, to this 25th of January, 1677. Alſo, a particular of thoſe Reaſons which firſt drew him to theſe damnable Principles. With ſeveral pleaſant Stories concerning him, proving his Commiſſion to be but Counterfeit, and himſelf a Cheat, from divers Expreſſions which have fallen from his own Mouth.

VII. An Epitaph, or, rather, a ſhort Diſcourſe made upon the Life and Death of D. Bonner, ſometime unworthy Biſhop of London, who dyed the 5th of September in the Marſhalſea.

Interſpers'd with Hiſtorical, Political, and Critical Notes.

Printed for T. Osborne, in Gray's-Inn; and ſold by J. Robinſon, at the Golden-Lion, in Ludgate-ſtreet. Where Propoſals at large with an Account of this Undertaking may be had, Gratis, and of all Bookſellers both in Town and Country.

N. B. Thoſe Gentlemen who have not yet taken in this Work may begin with No. I. and go on progreſſively.

PROPOSALS for Printing, by SUBSCRIPTION,

THE Harleian Miſcellany: Or, a Collection of Scarce, Curious, and Entertaining Tracts and Pamphlets, found in the late Earl of Oxford's Library. Interſpers'd with Hiſtorical, Political, and Critical Notes.

CONDITIONS.

I. It is propoſed to publiſh Six Sheets of this Work, every Saturday.

II. It is deſired, for aſcertaining the Number to be printed and the more ſpeedy Delivery of each Number, that they who think the Deſign worthy of their Encouragement, would favour the Proprietor, Thomas Osborne, of Gray's-Inn, Bookſeller; or J. Robinſon, at the Golden Lion, in Ludgate-ſtreet, with their Names and Places of Abode.

An ACCOUNT of this UNDERTAKING.

IT has been for a long Time, a very juſt Complaint, among the Learned, that a Multitude of valuable Productions, publiſhed in ſmall Pamphlets, or in ſingle Sheets, are in a ſhort Time, too often by Accidents, or Negligence, deſtroyed, and entirely loſt; and that thoſe Authors, whoſe Reverence for the Public has hindered them from ſwelling their Works with Repetitions, or encumbering them with Superfluities, and who, therefore, deſerve the Praiſe and Gratitude of Poſterity, are forgotten, for the very Reaſon for which they might expect to be remembered. It has been long lamented, that the Duration of the Monuments of Genius and Study, as well as of Wealth and Power, depends in no ſmall Meaſure on their Bulk; and that Volumes, conſiderable only for their Size, are handed down from one Age to another, when compendious Treatiſes, of far greater Importance, are ſuffered to periſh, as the compacteſt Bodies ſink into the Water, while thoſe, of which the Extenſion bears a greater Proportion to the Weight, float upon the Surface.

This Obſervation hath been ſo often confirm'd by Experience, that, in the Neighbouring Nation, the common Appellation of ſmall Performances is derived from this unfortunate Circumſtance; a flying Sheet, or a fugitive Piece, are the Terms by which they are diſtinguiſhed, and diſtinguiſhed with too great Propriety, as they are ſubject, after having amuſed Mankind for a While, to take their Flight, and diſappear for ever.

What are the Loſſes which the Learned have already ſuſtained, by having neglected to fix thoſe Fugitives in ſome certain Reſidence, it is not eaſy to ſay; but there is no Doubt that many valuable Obſervations have been repeated, becauſe they were not preſerved; and that, therefore, the Progreſs of Knowledge has been retarded, by the Neceſſity of doing what had been already done, but was done for thoſe who forgot their Benefactor.

The obvious Method of preventing theſe Loſſes, of preſerving to every Man the Reputation he has merited by long Aſſiduity, is to unite theſe ſcattered Pieces into Volumes, that thoſe, which are too ſmall to preſerve themſelves, may be ſecured by their Combination with others; to conſolidate theſe Atoms of Learning into Syſtems, to collect theſe diſmuted Rays, that their Light and their Fire may become perceptible.

Of encouraging this uſeful Deſign, the Studious and Inquiſitive have now an Opportunity, which, perhaps, was never offered them before, and which, if it ſhould now be loſt, there is not any Probability that they will ever recover. They may now conceive themſelves in Poſſeſſion of the Lake into which all thoſe Rivulets of Science have for many Years been flowing; but which, unleſs its Waters are turned into proper Channels, will ſoon burſt its Banks, or be diſperſed in imperceptible Exhalations.

In the Harleian Library which I have purchaſed, are treaſured a greater Number of Pamphlets and ſmall Treatiſes, than were, perhaps, ever yet ſeen in one Place; Productions of the Writers of all Parties, and of every Age, from the Reformation; collected with an unbounded and unwearied Curioſity, without Excluſion of any Subject.

So great is the Variety, that it has been no ſmall Labour to peruſe the Titles, in order to reduce them to a rude Diviſion, and range their Heaps under general Heads; of which the Numbers, though not yet encreaſed by the Subdiviſion, which an accurate Survey will neceſſarily produce, cannot but excite the Curioſity of all the Studious, as there is ſcarcely any Part of Knowledge, which ſome of theſe Articles do not comprehend.

This Day is publiſh'd,

(Price One Shilling)

DISCORD: Or, One Thouſand, Seven Hundred, and Forty four.

By a Great POET, lately deceaſed.

—— Diſcordia demens
Intravit Cuſtos, ſaſcrosque a Bella coegit. Sil Ital.

Printed for B. Cowle at the Globe in Pater noſter Row.

This Day is publiſh'd,

The Sixteenth Edition of

ONANIA: Or, The Heinous Sin of Self-Pollution, and all its frightful Conſequences (in both Sexes) conſidered, with Spiritual and Phiſical Advice to thoſe who have already injured themſelves by this abominable Practice

As alſo the SIXTH EDITION of the SUPPLEMENT to it, both of them Revived and Enlarged, and now printed together in One Volume

And as the ſeveral Paſſages in the former Impreſſions, that have been charged with being obſcure and ambiguous, are in theſe cleared up and explained, there will be no more Alterations or Additions made to them

Theſe Editions contain ſome further and ſurprizing Inſtances of the Miſchiefs by that filthy, fatal Commerce with ones ſelf, which is ſo notoriouſly practiſed, as well by the Adult as Youth, Women as Men, Married as Single, to the weakning their Generative Faculties, and hindering Procreation, as their Letters of Complaint to the Author herein inſerted, ſhew.

And, amongſt others, a curious Letter from a Lady, with his Anſwer to it, concerning the Uſe and Abuſe of the Marriage Bed; together with divers Caſuiſtical and other Letters from both Sexes, of ſome ſecret unnatural Enormancies, neceſſary to be known both by the married and ſingle of each Sex.

To which is added,

A Curious PIECE tranſlated out of the Latin, from L. S. SCHMEDIER, as it is inſerted in the Acta Lipſienſia, concerning the Return of the Seed into the Maſs of Blood; well worth the Peruſal of Phyſicians, Surgeons, Anatomiſts, and all others of Art and Curioſity.

As alſo Dr. QUINCY's Tranſlation of Dr CARR's remarkable Anſwer to a Letter ſent by a Divine, concerning two Nuns in Rome, reputed to have changed their Sex

Likewiſe Dr. DRAKE's and ſeveral other Phyſicians Opinions of Hermaphrodites, and Women brought to a Reſemblance of them, by the Practice of Self-Pollution, as was the Caſe of a young Lady of 18, whoſe well-wrote Letter to the Author, deſcribing and lamenting her Condition, is (in order to deter others) inſerted

A very grave and learned Divine and Phyſician having peruſed this Diſcourſe, before it went to the Preſs, returned it with his Opinion of it in theſe Words

'This little Book ought to be read by all Sorts of People, 'of both Sexes, of what Age, Degree, Profeſſion, or Condition 'ſoever, guilty or not guilty of the Sin declaimed againſt in it.'

Is now ſold by J. Isted, Bookſeller, (Mr Crouch, Bookſeller, in Pater-noſter Row, being dead) at the Golden Ball, between St Dunſtan's Church and Chancery Lane, in Fleetſtreet. Price Bound 3 s. 6 d.

The True Cordial QUINTESSENCE of VIPERS, the moſt Noble and Grand Preparation in the whole Materia Medica, for the real, ſubſtantial Cure of Impotence in Men, and Barrenneſs in Women; and is vaſtly preferable to Viper Wine, or any other Preparation of Vipers whatever, as being replete with the full and whole Virtues of them.

A FEW Drops of it only, gives ſuch a generous Warmth, and ſo exceedingly delights the Vital and Animal Spirits, Senſes and Nerves, as ſoon to ſhew what it will do, upon a little Continuance of it; for it not only promotes, and prompts to a Deſire, but alſo furniſhes proper Matter, for the Support and Eſtabliſhment of a true laſting Inclination and Power.

By this Means it anſwers the End as well of Food as Phyſick, nor is there any thing in Nature beſides, that can in that Reſpect come up to it conſidering that it univerſally nouriſhes and reſtores in all the Declenſions of Deſire and Vigour, without the leaſt Clogging the Veſſels, or ſtimulating the Parts, as moſt other Medicines for theſe Purpoſes do: And tho' it be a Maxim in Phyſick, that ſans CERERE & BACCHO FRIGET VENUS, that is, in effect is ſufficiently nutritious as to want no Aſſiſtance that Way; not but it muſt be allowed, that good Eating and Drinking with its Comfort, but in ſome Degree, at leaſt as an Auxiliary contributes to its Efficacy.

Nor does it only furniſh Matter and create Deſire, but alſo true Power (as it braces up and corroborates the Teſtes) and gives an elaſtick Springineſs to the Muſcuh Erectores Penis in Men, and corrects, cleanſes and comforts the Uterus, or Womb in Women, the Lankneſs and Laxity of the former, and the Fouleneſs, Coldneſs, or Obſtruction of the latter, or ng more the Cauſe of Impotency or Infertility in the one Sex, and Indifferency or Sterility in the other than any Thing elſe beſides; and that it is Balſamick, and greatly Reſtorative, is confirmed by long Experience, and we have many Inſtances in Phyſical Writings, of Perſons arriving to a healthful old Age, as well as recover'd from deplorable Decays and Weakneſſes, by a continued Uſe of the common Preparations of Vipers, which this Quinteſſence, by being of vaſtly more Efficacy, brings about in a Quarter of the Time, and with the Tenth Part of the Quantity.

Thoſe who but once try it, will ſo pleaſantly experience its nutritive quickening Properties, in exhilerating the Heart, reviving the Spirits, comforting the Vitals, circulating the Juice, and recreating and renovating, as it were the whole Maſs, that they will never be without it, for it is ſuch a perfect Help, in Time of Need, as that on the taking then but a Drop or two more of it than ordinary, it will ſo inſtantaneouſly animate the dull inactive Spirits, and rouze up and actuate the ſluggiſh enfeebled Faculties in both Sexes, as to excite and capacitate where it could hardly be expected and at the ſame Time ſeldom fails to render that conjugal Intercourſe Prolifick, Price Half a Guinea the Bottle.

Mr. Weſt, Goldſmith, who uſ'd to ſell the ſaid Eſſences, being lately dead, it is now Sold only by his Son-in-Law, Mr. Jones, a Baker, at the Seven Stars in Vere Street, Clare-Market, ſeal'd up, with Directions (for any Meſſenger) upon aſking for only a Bottle of Quinteſſence.

ANTISYPHILICON

THE quickest and most infallible CURE in the Universe for the Venereal Disease from the slightest Infection to the most inveterate and malignant Degree of it, even when the Blood and Juices are corrupted, contaminated with the most malignant Virus, and the very Bones are affected with it.

Fistful Infections, call'd Claps, with all their attendant Symptoms, tho' ever so severe, are entirely carried off by it in a few Days, and so effectually to prevent the Blood and Juices from being tainted with any remaining Relicks, on one Hand, or a seminal Gleet, or Weakness, to happen on the other.

And the most inveterate Degree of the French Illness, attended with all their direful Symptoms, as Blotches over all the most exposed Parts, Scabs, Scurfs, Pustules, Ulcers, Nodes, Exostoses, Gonorrhœas, Gleets, Strictures, Running Sores, Fistulas, Chancres, Buboes, Carbuncles, Noli me tangere, Sarcocele, Hydrocele, Phymosis, Paraphymosis, Priapism, Tumours, Pains, Aches, Nocturnal Exacerbations of Pains, Weakness, Impotency, Barrenness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, Fluor Albus, Menorrhagia, Abortion, Gripings, Convulsions, Cramps, Spasms, Tremblings, Twitchings, Contractions, Distortions, Rheumatisms, Nodes, Exostoses, Caries, Nocturnal Pains, Aches, Weakness, Lameness, Decay, Wasting, Consumption, Leprosy, Elephantiasis, Black Jaundice, Scurvy, Dropsy, Scirrhus, Cancer, Fistula in Ano, Ulcers, Sores, Scabs, Scurfs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Spots, Tetters, Ringworms, Scaldheads, Scorbutick, Scrophulous, Cachectick, Hectick, Consumptive, Atrophy, Marasmus, Tabes, Lues Venerea, Gonorrhœa Virulenta